

BOXER DANNY WILLIAMS – CHAMPION OF THE WORLD?

Anxious not to be just a 'flash in the pan' after beating Mike Tyson, Danny Williams, is training harder than ever to prove his worth and realise his childhood dream - to be Heavyweight Champion of the World. Last month, 31 year old Danny, was officially unveiled as the challenger to champion Vitali Klitschko for a fight that will take place at Madison Square Garden, New York on December 11 – a day that could be the richest pay day of his 35-fight career. Naturally, Ukrainian Klitschko, has other ideas and will want to get his own hands on the $1m, but one thing is for sure – Danny will be in the best shape of his life when he comes face to face with his opponent and with Elagen Sport at his side the odds are most definitely in his favour! "I haven't been run down since taking Elagen," says Danny. "Elagen Sport has given me added confidence which enables me to push myself to the limits – something I have to do to if I am to realise my goal of becoming the undisputed heavyweight champion! Maintaining a strong and healthy immune system is important in order for me to train hard and hard training is the key to defeating Klitschko – Elagen Sport plays a very important role in my success!"

Fears unfounded over Saw Palmetto

Prostate problems affect 80% of men in their eighties - the good news is Saw Palmetto, which derives its name from its meaning, 'small saw-like palm', has an important role to play in the protection of the prostate. With only 10% of men suffering from prostate problems in their forties – the risk of problems definitely increases with age. It's therefore never too soon to start taking precautions. Recently however, there have been fears that taking Saw Palmetto as a dietary supplement can mask 'prostate-specific antigen' (PSA) levels and give false results during testing. There is a simple solution to this – tell your doctor you are using it so that he can factor this in when assessing the results. PSA levels rise when there are prostate problems, which is why monitoring them, is still the best way to assess whether the prostate is changing. Medical experts insist Saw Palmetto has an important role to play in the protection of the prostate because, even if it does influence test results, it does not do so by more than 25% and this is not enough of an impact to mask the signs of a developing problem.

Palmetto Power

There have been a number of well-controlled clinical studies that confirm the safe and effective use for the treatment of benign prostatic hyperplasia, or BPH. The prostate gland lies below the bladder around the urine out-flow tube called the urethra. Enlargement of the prostate gland results in obstruction near the outlet of the bladder and so restricts the flow of urine causing the symptom of obstruction, such as hesitancy to start or stop urination, straining to urinate, poor flow of urine and dribbling. Saw Palmetto extract can provide benefits such as, increased urinary flow, ease of commencing urination and decreased frequency of urination.

READ ALL ABOUT IT – LET OUR CUSTOMERS DO THE TALKING

"Thank you for sending our latest supply of Elagen high potency capsules so promptly. My husband and I have been taking them regularly for several months now, despite my initial scepticism about 'yet another health supplement!' I am writing because since starting to take Elagen, I have noticed several things have happened, which I cannot link to anything other than taking the supplement. Firstly, I work up to 16 hours a day and suffer chronic fatigue and stress as a result, leading me to suffer colds and particularly cold sores on a regular basis, winter and summer. Since taking Elagen regularly, I have not developed a single cold or cold sore. Secondly, my husband suffers from chronic upper respiratory tract infections and since taking Elagen he has had a sore throat only once. This went after one day – it usually would have persisted for at least a week, probably longer and eventually he would have visited his GP to get antibiotics.

The third thing I have noticed (and it may seem bizarre!) is that when I gave birth to my youngest child, now aged five, my hair became very thin at the hair line and my scalp was visible. It never recovered until about six weeks after taking Elagen, when I noticed new hair growth right along my forehead hairline – I simply cannot attribute this to anything other than the Elagen, as I have not had any other changes in lifestyle, diet or hormones.

I am delighted to share this information with you – I tell friends and acquaintances what a fantastic product I have found it to be, especially as there are so many, so-called wonder products that give little or no benefit. People such as myself are sceptical, so it is great to use something that really works and to be able to recommend it – please feel free to use my comments in your advertising literature," – by Gae de la Fosse, RGN.
